Automobuild opens the box and gives toys a green light!

Automobuild's mission is to inspire kids to understand how things can be put together to make something cool, and that's why we take time to give the products that we sell a green light.

We personally test toys for quality, play value, fun, education, and creative skill building.

We share knowledge of our products with customers in our retail store, and share this knowledge with customers across the United States through our online store www.AUTOMOBUILD.com

Nail Wedding Designs Art

Over the last few years, nails have become a rather important part of your bridal look. Shying away from the traditional French mani, many modern brides are now opting for solid colours, from natural taupes to bold reds.

"If you like the French manicure look, why not step outside the box and try it in a colour that matches your flowers or bridesmaids dresses?"

Flip The French

Playfull With Polka

"If you want something a little more subtle why not choose a pastel or nude shade that matches your flowers or make-up and add a few soft white polka dots on top?"
"I think this adds a unique touch to your bridal nails and looks romantic and feminine."

05 excuses to try

the words she means are those she doesn't say so slowly running out of things to say she was not afraid to ring a bell or two there's no one who can tell her how to feel

I just wish that I could help her out but I'm part of the problem it turns out
and I'm part of the problem it turns out

I noticed she thinks I have figured it all out surely I did try but know this: I'm confidently pretending but that's hard when you don't have an excuse to try

the words she means are those she doesn't say
I'm part of the problem it turns out we're almost halfway there still getting you nowhere wrap it in a cloud to figure this out

06 little more time

an eyelash on your cheek crashed down and broken decided to leave so it jumped on a bus since "let you've been wanting to grow up since" let been trying to get out of here

I don't wanna find out whatever I needed I'm way too afraid of what I need that you're looking the tired while I'm feeling my head I wish that I will make up my mind don't write me off because I should try hard enough I just need a little more time

because I haven't tried hard enough

the closer we get the more it looks like we've made it I finally like this time of year the closer you look we get has overrated I hope that next week you'll still be here

but just like your eyelash you didn't get far

07 silver game against the wall looking like a princess down the hall since it's starting to wear something so badly that it hurts she's not too late

she's not too late
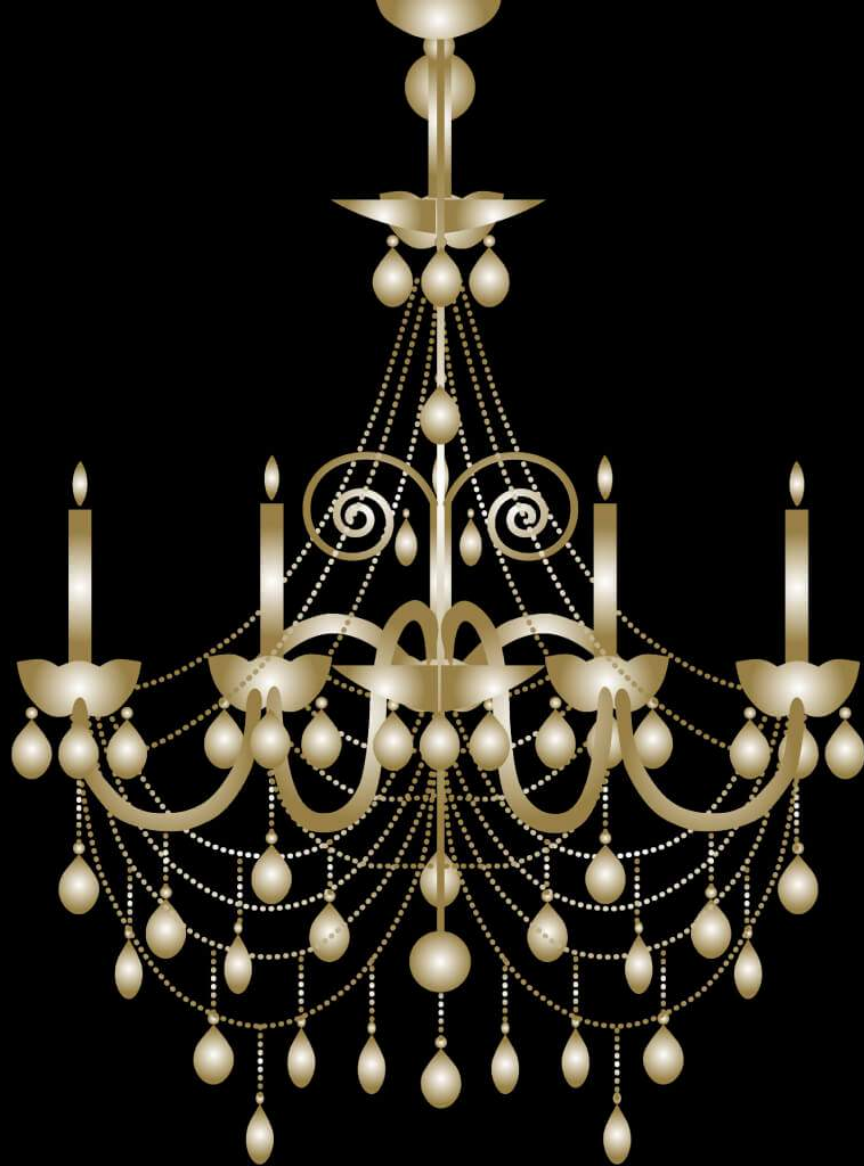

she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late

they must find a new name for this sudden silver game it's time to go now that she knows more than she wants to know she's starting to wear something so badly that it hurts
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
she's not too late
